

Name: _____ Partners: _____

We have all heard of concerns that global warming can lead to a rise in the sea level. Part of this is due to melting ice and more water. But part is also due to the thermal expansion of the water! The average ocean depth is 4,000 m. Using your results from today, estimate the expected rise in the sea level for each 1 degree increase in temperature C.